

Core is:

Chris Harras: vocals, guitar

Harry Jilg: bass

Sascha Bém: drums

Hailing from Austria, Core began their assault on the EU with their first release, "AWAY" in 2002, which led to amazing reviews across Europe.

... a whole lot of hits on the record... melodic haunting tunes that collide with a hard wall of guitars... METAL HAMMER / Germany

A band you'd like to follow (...) maybe because of its (typically European?) subtle approach (...) maybe because of killer-tracks like "Alive", a stunning crossover between Soundgarden and Filter. ROLLING STONE / France

As news of their sound spread to the rest of the world, they followed up with "Halfplugged", an acoustic/electric hybrid disc that recreated the atmosphere of a couple of very successful gigs they had been playing in this manner throughout Austria.

The band furthers their intentions of gaining a worldwide audience with the release of "Perfect Summer" and their song, 'The Angle' being placed in an international ad campaign for BMW automobiles. Some tracks from "Perfect Summer" have already been featured in MTV's shows "Meet The Barkers" and "Viva La Bam".

Looking forward, Core sees a hot and heavy perfect summer in 2007 and world domination beyond.
